My Museum in a Box

Museums are full of things that were important to people in the past. These objects tell us lots about the people who owned and used them.

Have a go at creating your own Museum in a Box

What you need:

- A shoe box or something similar
- Things to decorate your box
- Glue
- String

What to do:

- Decorate your box – leave a space for your name and a date in the future when your box can be opened.
- Fill your box with pictures, drawings and objects

Things you might like to include

Pictures or photos of your family, friends and pets

A list of your favourite foods

A list of your favourite things to do

Hand or foot prints

A piece of treasure

Your favourite joke

A souvenir of your favourite place

The name of your favourite book or film

A piece of string that is the same height as you

- Put the lid on the box and tie it on with string. Write a date in the future when the box can be opened and hide the box away until that date.

Remember - No peeping 'till the future!
